The Institute of Political Science invites applications for a position as a

Lecturer (f/m) (Salary Scale 13 TV-L, 65 %)

assigned to the Chair for Comparative and German Politics to be appointed from 01.10.2017 or later. The position is initially limited to two years with a possible extension.

Responsibilities and duties

Responsibilities and duties include teaching and research. The weekly teaching load is 3hrs (28 weeks annually) in English or German. This means that two courses in the winter term (October-January) and one course in the summer term (April-July) have to be taught. Research interests should connect to existing research projects on the German constitutional court, German legislation or comparative analysis of political institutions and systems. Writing research papers and participating in conferences is expected and will be supported. The pursuit of a doctoral thesis is welcomed.

Payment

The payment is according to the payment scale of the German Länder (Tarifvertrag Länder TV-L) in payment category E13. The extent of the position is equivalent to 65% of the standard working time.

Employment conditions

To qualify for the position, applicants must have completed their M.A. thesis in political science or a related subject, knowledge in quantitative methods and statistics including software (R, Stata, SPSS) and good English proficiency.

As an equal opportunities employer, Leibniz Universität Hannover intends to promote women and men in the context of statutory requirements. For this reason suitably qualified women are specifically invited to apply. Equally qualified applicants with disabilities will be given preferential treatment.
